Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)

(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
 - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
 - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

EXHIBIT A
DEFINITIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS

1. As used herein, the term “YOU” shall mean Dynadot Inc. and any affiliates, agents, attorneys, employees, representatives, or any other person or persons acting or purporting to act on its behalf.

2. “Document(s)” includes all documents and things defined by Fed.R.Civ.P. 34 and means any writings and includes, without limitation, all written or graphic matter, however produced or reproduced, of any kind or description, whether sent or received or neither, including originals, non-identical copies, and drafts, and both sides thereof, including, without limitation: letters, correspondence, papers, memoranda, contracts, agreements, books, journals, ledgers, statements, reports, studies, bills, billings, invoices, worksheets, jottings, projections, notes, abstracts, advertisements, drawings, audits, charges, balance sheets, income statements, magazine articles, newspaper or periodical articles, annual reports, public filings, analyst reports, checks, diagrams, blueprints, diaries, calendars, logs, recordings, instructions, lists, minutes of meetings, orders, resolutions, telegrams, wires, cables, telexes, messages, resumes, summaries, tabulations, tallies, statistical analyses, tapes, computer tapes, tape recordings, computer printouts, input/output computer systems, e-mails, and all other informal or formal writing or tangible things on which any handwriting, typing, printing, or sound is recorded or reproduced, and any and all attachments, amendments or supplements to all of the foregoing, whether prepared by a party or another person. If necessary, all documents must be translated through detection or decoding device into useable form. “Documents” includes every document known to you, every document that can be located or discovered by reasonably diligent efforts on your part and specifically includes, but is not limited to, those documents in your control, possession or custody, wherever such documents are located.

3. “Communication(s)” means any transmission or exchange of information, opinions, or thoughts, whether orally, in writing or otherwise, including but not limited to reports, mailings, conversations, meetings, letters, notes and telegraphic, facsimile, recordings, telex or computer-assisted electronic messages.

4. “Person” refers to any individual, corporation, proprietorship, association, joint venture, company, partnership or other business or legal entity, including governmental bodies and agencies. The singular of the term includes, where applicable, the plural and vice versa.

5. The terms “concern,” “concerns,” and “concerning” shall mean relating to, referring to, concerning, mentioning, reflecting, pertaining to, evidencing, involving, describing, discussing, commenting on, embodying, responding to, supporting, contradicting, and/or constituting (in whole or in part), as the context makes appropriate.

6. “Each” and “every” as used herein shall mean “each and every.”

7. “Any” as used herein means any and all.

8. “Identity” of a person means the person’s name, current business address, current home address, or, if unknown, the last-known business and home address, any and all known phone numbers, email addresses, instant messaging addresses and any other information that actually or potentially identifies the person or reflects where they reside.

Instructions

1. In responding to the following requests, furnish all documents within your possession, custody, or control as well as all documents within the possession, custody, or control of your agents, representatives, employees, attorneys, or any other person or entity acting on your behalf. These Requests call for the production of originals, identical copies if originals are unavailable, and non-identical copies (whether different from the originals because of notes made on such copies or otherwise) of the documents described in these Requests. If you cannot fully respond to the following requests after exercising due diligence to secure the documents requested thereby, so state, and specify the portion of each request that cannot be responded to fully and completely. In the latter event, state what efforts were made to obtain the requested documents.

2. Documents produced in response to these Requests shall be organized and labeled to correspond with the categories in these Requests or shall be produced as they are kept in the usual course of business. File folders with tabs or labels or directories of filed identifying documents called for by these requests must be produced intact with such documents.

3. Any documents produced in electronic form shall be produced together with any data, software or other tools necessary to permit the demanding party to locate, identify and read the responsive information contained therein as readily as can the responding party. Please produce any electronic documents in a readily usable or understandable form that does not reduce searchability of the data and includes or retains any metadata associated with those documents (e.g., emails should be produced in a format that preserves full header information).

4. If you withhold any responsive documents as privileged or otherwise protected from disclosure, with respect to each document, identify:

- (a) all persons making or receiving the privileged or protected communication;
- (b) the steps taken to ensure the confidentiality of the communication, including affirmation that no unauthorized persons have received the communication;
- (c) the date of the communication; and
- (d) a description of the document or thing sufficient to identify the basis of the claim of privilege or protection claimed.

5. The relevant time period for each Request shall be January 1, 2024 through the present, unless otherwise noted in the request.

6. To the extent permitted and authorized by law, these Requests shall be deemed continuing so as to require further and supplemental production if you receive, discover, become aware of, or create additional responsive documents between the time of initial production and the time of trial.

RECORDS REQUESTED

1. All Documents, records, or other information concerning the domains listed in Appendix A (hereafter the “Dynadot Domains”), including but not limited to, the registrant information for each of the Dynadot Domains (e.g., the full name, physical address, telephone number, email address, and any other contact information provided by the registrant), IP connection logs associated with the Dynadot Domains (present and historical), billing records, complaints, communications logs, and any other information passively or actively collected by You concerning the Dynadot Domains.
2. All Documents, records or other information concerning the Identity of any and all Persons registering, utilizing, or assigned the Dynadot Domains, including but not limited to that Person’s IP connection logs (present and historical), full name, account information (e.g., communication records, account sign-up records, account activity, payment details (present and historical), contact information, history of contact information and identification of all Person(s) associated with hosting of each Internet domain), information concerning the services provided by you to that Person, and any other information passively collected by you about that Person (e.g., IP address, browser and MAC information).
3. All Documents, records, or other information concerning the Persons assigned any email addresses associated with the Dynadot Domains, including that Person’s IP connection logs (present and historical), full name, account information (e.g., communication records, account sign-up records, account activity, payment details (present and historical), contact information, history of contact information and identification of all Person(s) associated with that email address), information concerning the services provided by you to that Person, and any other information passively collected by You about that Person (e.g., IP address, browser and MAC information).
4. All Documents, records, or other information concerning any data, content and/or other material (including but not limited to source code or object code, software, webpages, and/or websites) hosted at the Dynadot Domains, including but not limited to any documents concerning the setup of any servers and hosting for the content hosted at the Dynadot Domains by You, the history of traffic for any such content on your servers, the history of files or data transferred to or from that hosted server space, and copies of the data transferred to or from that hosted server space.
5. All communications between you and any and all Persons registering, utilizing, and/or assigned the Dynadot Domains.
